

CALL FOR PARTICIPATION

Oral History Project: "How We Remember"

Who, What, Why:

Claire Lavarreda is a grad student at Northeastern University seeking participants for an Oral History Project titled "How We Remember."

The project aims to interview Indigenous students, archivists, community historians, and curators about their work and the process of cultural preservation. Interviews with Indigenous individuals who wish to talk about experiences beyond history are also welcome! You do not have to be formally enrolled in a tribe to participate.

Where:

Interested in participating?

Fill out this
Google Form here

<https://forms.gle/DkHaKLvHpJXUpcDM7>

Contact